CONFERENCE IN CHICAGO FAILS OF RESULTS

U. S. Labor Board's Efforts To Have Strike Called Off Are Without Success

UNION CHIEFS LEAVE

Judge Barton Says Adjournment is Final. In Doubt as to Next Step To Avert Strike.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Efforts by the Railroad Labor Board to avert the threatened railrod strike through conferences with heads of the five unions which have ordered a walkout effective October 30 failed, when the meeting adjourned last night with the announcement by the board that "while the discussions were beneficial, no definite results were obtained."

"There has been a full and frank discussion of the situation," said a statement given out by Ben W. Hooper, vice chairman of the board. "The Labor Board and the brotherhood chiefs exchanged views in a perfectly pleasant way. The interview was beneficial, but we cannot say that any definite results were obtained."

"The adjournment is final," Chairmn R. M. Barton, of the Labor Board, nnounced. "We do not plan any further conferences with the labor leaders, nor do we plan, at present, to call in the railroad presidents. I cannot say what our next step might be."

The five union presidents departed for their organization headquarters last night with the announcement that plans for the proposed strike would go right ahead.

Developments in the situation in Washington and elsewhere today as reorted here were:

Secretary of Commerce Hoover announced plans have been completed by his department for transportation of essentials in case of a rail tie up.

Chairman McChord, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Acting Attorney General Goff conferred with President Harding over the rail situation.

Eastern roads advertised for men to fill vacancies which would result from a strike. Central Railroad of New Jersey received so many replies that it announced no more can be considered.

American Railway Men's Association, with 10,000 members, appeals to railroad workers not to strike.

Railroads announce poll of employes to ascertain how many will remain at work if there is a strike.

New strike vote ordered among Pennsylvania lines shop craft workers.

Announced that Interstate Commerce Commission freight rate decisions in regard to hay, grain and lumber are imminent.

Officials of Southern Railway announce it was not represented at recent Chicago rail executives' meeting where plans to seek a new 10 per cent. wage cut were announced.

While the board members came out of the afternoon session with the union chiefs smiling and in a jovial mood, they left the night meeting with solemn faces and refused publicly to discuss the session—aside from the statements by Chairman Barton and Vice-Chairman Hooper.

Union leaders said the board had not presented anything which they looked on as in any way a tangible proposition.

"It's somebody's move next," said the head of one of the larger of the five organizations. "Whether it's ours, the board's or the roads', I don't know. I only know that the board brought us here and talked four hours without presenting anything which we could even consider as a compromise. The meeting was absolutely without results.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

From Our Correspondent

Washington, Oct. 21,—Hon. Joseph W. Folk, former Governor of Missouri and now a prominent lawyer of the National Capital was arrested here a few days ago on the charge of running over a "Stop-Go" sign. Mr. Folk appeared as his own lawyer and made a unique defense.

He argued that while the law is clear and drastic as regards running on the wrong side of the sign, there is no provision against running over a sign. The judge took his view of the question and acquitted him after apologizing for the arrest.

A bit of history overheard as the guide stood in the main rotunda of the Capitol surrounded by tourists from every point:

"The Capitol is superbly placed on a commanding eminence. It is the architectural gem of the country. The cornerstone was laid September 18, 1793, by General George Washington, who was the past grand master of the Alexandria Lodge of Masons.

The building was completed in 1827, although it was partly burned by the British when they invaded the city in 1814. On July 4, 1852, President Millard Fillmore laid the cornerstone of the new wings of the Capitol. Daniel Webster delivered the oration on that occasion."

What has become of the old-time Senators with long flowing white whiskers? The fact that none such is found now in the Senate is a source of surprise, if not disappointment, to the many tourists who stop a moment in the gallery while making the rounds taking in the sights.

A few decades ago one of the chief adornments of a Senator was a "wealth of whiskers." Even the oldtimers now are slaves of fashion and practically all of them have smooth faces. True, Senator Lodge supports a Van Dyke, but it is being cropped closer each session of Congress and the cartoonists do it and him an injustice. Senator Knud Nelson, of Minnesota, wears a patch of chin whiskers, while a few others still hold on to their moustaches.

The members of Congress and their families total 1,500 and 60 per cent of them would take advantage of a chance to live in a special apartment house as proposed in a bill fostered by Representative Langley, of Kentucky, chairman of the House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds. Mr. Langley declares he was inspired to introduce the bill because of the shortage of homes at the National Capital and the high rents prevailing. His bill provides for the erection of an apartment house containing 300 different suites of various types to accommodate the needs of different members of Congress, from the bachelor to the man with a big and growing family.

Union Services at 7:45 P.M.

Last evening was another evening filled with good things for all those who were at the Union Servisce, being held in the Methodist Protestant Church by the congregations of Trinity M. E. Church and Methodist Protestant Church. The attendance was not so large as had been on the previous evening, owing to the Odd Fellows' Convention claiming the presence of a great many of our men from both churches, but we wished them God speed in their great work, knowing as we preachers do that the Odd Fellows' stand square for that which is right and we cordially invite our visiting brothers to these services. The service last evening was very helpful, Rev. J. L. Green preached a beautiful solo, which was greatly enjoyed; Miss Anna Roberts, an evangelistic singer from Philadelphia, fairly stirred our souls by the singing of two solos. Come and hear this sweet singer. This evening will be Sunday School evening. We invite and want all the children from both Sunday Schools to this service, the speaker for the evening will be Rev. W. P. Roberts, a former Alexandria boy, now pastor of one of our large churches in Baltimore. Come and hear him.

MYSTERY MAN DIES TODAY AT HOSPITAL

May be John Dunn of Chester, Pa.

MAY IDENTIFY HIM

Chief Goods Wires James J. Dunn of Chester Whose Son John is Reported Missing.

Alexandria's mystery man is dead. The end came at 10.15 o'clock this morning at the Alexandria Hospital. The police, however, soon hope to be able to have him identified. In fact they think that he may be identified today. They are of the opinion that he may be John Dunn of Chester, Pa.

A full description of the deceased at noon today was wired to James J. Dunn, 524 East Tenth Street, Chester Pa., by Chief of Police C. T. Goods. James J. Dunn is the father of John Dunn who is missing according to a letter received by Chief of Police Goods. The letter received by the chief is signed "J. S."

The letter reads as follows: "Please find out of John Dunn of Chester is in any of the hospitals down their Please let me know at once." The stranger was picked up Saturday afternoon by Policeman Magner after he fell in front of the wooden shed at the head of King street, where passengers for Washington over the Washington-Virginia Railway get on and off. It is said by Chief Goods that a short time previous to falling the man was seen with a companion and the companion left him after he fell.

The man was brought to the police headquarters and locked up. He appeared in a stupor. Not being aroused Sunday a physician was summoned and Sunday afternoon he was taken to the Alexandria Hospital and placed under the care of Dr. George T. Klipstein. It is thought the man was a victim of wood alcohol poisoning. Only once or twice since he had been in the hospital did he show any signs of consciousness. Once he muttered either the name "Joe Donnelly" or "Joe Dunn." His eyesight was gone and all efforts to rouse him from his stupor proved unavailing, although everything known to medical science was resorted to. Yesterday he showed slight signs of improvement.

Chief Goods endeavored to get him to reply to questions concerning his identity and once the chief says he muttered "Tenth" in reply to the questions to what street he lived on.

As already stated in The Gazette the stranger had tatooted on his right arm the initials "J. J. D." He also had a return ticket to Washington. Two joints of his right index finger were missing. The deceased was about thirty-three years old and had dark hair.

STATE NEWS

Suffolk—Extensive forest fires are to be seen in the edges of the Dismal Swamp near Suffolk, and at night the pungent odor of the burning woods is clearly discernable. Hunters who have been in the Dismal lately tell of how the ditch is dry enough to afford a walkway all the way in. The water is low in Lake Drummond. The wild animals of the swamp, hunting for water, are to be seen out near the ditch and more in the open than is usual, for their haunts are mostly far in the jungles. Recently bears, deer and smaller denizens of the great swamp have ventured out near the open country and have been noticed by those who live near the edges of the Dismal.

BRIDEGROOM OF A DAY BEING SOUGHT FOR

BORROWS MONEY

Strange Tale Told to Washington Police —Couple Married in Alexandria Yesterday.

The Washington police are looking for a man who, it is alleged, worked a new and ingenious confidence game on a Washington hacker, a part of the game being the marriage in Alexandria of the alleged confidence man.

The man, who gave the name of Jack J. Lerada, and his residence as Dallas, Texas, made the acquaintance a few days ago of Joseph Tomaka, a public hacker of Washington, and quite a friendship sprang up between the two. Lerada, who was stopping at the Harrington Hotel in Washington, and who represented himself as a lieutenant in the navy, showed Tomaka telegrams from Dallas, Tex., indicating that Lerada had fallen heir to $15,000, a condition of the legacy being, however, that Lerada must be married before his twenty-fifth birthday, which was rapidly approaching. He promised Tomaka $1,000 to help him find a bride, which the hacker agreed to do, and the two set out in search of a "Willin' Barkis." According to the tale told by Tomaka, they located Miss Margaret G. Dickerson, who agreed to marry Lerada, and the three entered Tomaka's car and came to Alexandria.

Deputy Clerk Ashby E. Bladen issued a license to the pair, and they set forth in search of a minister to perform the ceremony. Policeman Lawrence Padgett, it is said, kindly volunteered to help, and summoned Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester from the Kiwanis Club luncheon. Dr. Regester performed the ceremony and the happy couple went on their way.

Just before reaching Washington the bridegroom informed the accommodating hacker, so the latter says, that he needed some money to purchase a new uniform, and that if Tomaka would advance a small amount, say $250, Tomaka could accompany the bridal pair to Dallas, where he would be given $1,000 of the "legacy." Tomaka said he didn't have the money, but could, and did, borrow it. The "lieutenant" then stopped in a Pennsylvania Avenue Military Shop, and shortly afterward came out dressed in a brand new naval uniform, and the party then proceeded to the union station to take the train for Dallas. They stopped at North Capitol and H streets, northwest, where the bride left the car, saying she must "get her clothes." Tomaka and Lerada went on to the Union Station, where Lerada told Tomaka to wait while he got tickets.

Right here the sad tale ends, according to Tomaka. After waiting two hours for the lieutenant to show up with the tickets, and for the bride to show up with her clothes, Tomaka decided that further waiting was useless. He reported the matter to the police department, who started an investigation which developed the fact that Lerada had been a guest of the Harrington Hotel, but had left without the formality of paying his board bill.

Dr. Regester maintains that for a man in a hurry, and one without previous experience in picking brides, as claimed by Lerada, the latter, to all appearances, was "some picker." In the application for the license the bride gave her residence as Louisville, Ky., and her birthplace as Stafford County, Virginia.

HEARST'S EDITORIALS

Occasionally there appear on the Gazette's editorial table a few books that are left there by well-intentioned friends. One of the most recent acquisitions is a collection of editorials from the Hearst newspapers, bound in one volume. There are probably over a hundred editorials in the book. We should probably call all of them interesting, if for no other reason than the view point from which the editor looks out upon the world of men and affairs about him. They sound very much like our friend Brisbane, whose wisdom and philosophy we like now and then to expound to our readers.

Quite by accident, the volume under discussion opened at an editorial entitled "What are the Best Ten Books?" The subject is of absorbing interest to us, as we have often asked ourselves the same question. The essay, if we may so call it, is taken from a Hearst Chicago newspaper, and is evidently apropos of a discussion going on at the time in the Porkopolis papers. The controversy, it seems, was started by Mister Sam T. Clover, who, for aught we know, is one of the butchers or bakers or candlestick makers of the city by the Lake. This gentleman has propounded an interrogatory, that is fairly startling—so says Mr. Hearst's editor. It runs thusly: "If you were bound for a desert island, and could take with you only ten books, which ten books would you select?"

According to the information given whosoever was refined and well-read in Chicago answered Mr. Clover's question. The Hearst editor says the selections were from the moral view point, admirable. He says the Bible is omitted rarely and the Rubaiyat never. This evidence of Chicago culture is entirely satisfactory. Nay, more, the morality of the view point is conspicuous and truly Chicagoan in its lofty conception of the simon-pure breed of ethics. The Bible is sometimes omitted, but the Rubaiyat never! Our editor waxes facetious and familiar in his joyous approval, and calls the Persian poet "Colonel Omar!"

However, in the next paragraph he assumes a proper air of editorial humility, and remarks that "it may not be permissible for a yellow Editor to break into a Cook County literary fiesta." He confesses that he dislikes to run the risk—but is going to run it anyway.

So he starts out bravely by saying that a man living on a desert island needs no books at all! He declares that reading books is an idle occupation unless you can make your reading profitable to other human beings; and alas! there is only a little sand, some goats, and a few miles of ocean in sight on a desert island.

The strange thing to our Chicago editor is that not one of Cook County's thinkers has mentioned a book on astronomy. This is the one thing he cannot understand. There are many thinkers in Cook County, oodles of them, thinkers who think the real Chicago brand of thought, and yet they have so far forgotten the dignity of their high station, and are so far sunken in the ways of ignorance and depravity, that they have not arisen to the demands of the occasion and named one work on astronomy!

Then our sorrowing essayist goes on to describe the starry wonders of the heavens. Vega, for instance, flashing overhead, is worth, all the books ever written; that is, with your little work on astronomy by your side, on the desert island. He waxes poetical: the Milky Way becomes to him the Mississippi of the sky. He speaks of the cold, dead worlds lying in the silent morgue of eternity! What a metaphor! Eternity, to the Chicago editorial mind, is a morgue! He says "The greatest book on men ever written on this earth is but an analysis of the emotions of imperfect human minds." A good astronomy is worth them all—and then some! Good bye, Shakespeare! Farewell, Dante! Adieu, Homer,—for the honor of whose birthplace a dozen cities fought! Henceforth and forever your niches in fame's eternal temple are vacant! You are tumbled into the dust of oblivion. A text-book on astronomy has supplanted you all in the esteem and affections of mankind!

Now, we come to the real mind of the Hearst editor. We penetrate the arcana of his inmost intellect. He admonishes his Cook County thinkers, all and singular, to drop Colonel Omar; to forget their half-hearted fondness for Milton; and to buy "Ball's Story of the Heavens." He guarantees that for four dollars and in four weeks—we can derive more genuine learning and real culture—of the true Chicago brand, than in all the books printed and published in the world theretofore!

We have not space to go further into these delightful Hearst editorials. Nor shall we tackle more of them until we have paid four dollars for Professor Ball's "Story of the Heavens," and in four weeks have learned all there is to know!

WASHINGTON MONUMENT

(For the Gazette)

The total cost of the monument was $1,500,000, and it was not until Dec. 6, 1884, that the capstone was set.

The height of the monument above the ground is 555 feet, 5 1-2 inches.

The monument, which is the largest memorial to a person in the world is in the Mall, a public park on the banks of the Potomac and Tiber Creek, in the capitol city.

The monument is constructed of more than 18,000 blocks of marble that are two feet thick.

The foundations of the shaft are 126 1-2 feet square and 36 feet, 8 inches deep.

Where the pyramidal top begins at a height of 505 feet, the shaft is 34 feet 5 1-2 inches square and the walls 18 inches thick.

The pyramidal top terminates in an aluminum tip 9 inches high which weighs 100 ounces.

The area at the base of the pyramidal top is 1,187 1-4 feet, equal to the space occupied by a house of six rooms, each 12x16 feet.

Flexible Arch--Like the Foot

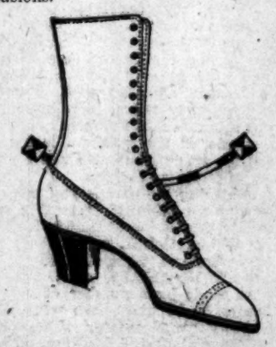
Do you know that the arch of your foot is flexible? It is composed of small bones which flex every step you take. Muscles and ligaments hold the bones in place.

Do you realize that the ordinary shoe has a piece of steel concealed in the arch, making the shoe stiff right at the point where your foot must flex? Weak, or fallen, arches come when the muscles and ligaments fail to hold the arch bones in their normal position.

You can have strong, healthy feet by wearing Cantilever Shoes. They have a flexible arch like your foot. There is no metal in the shank to stiffen the shoe where it ought to flex.

This flexibility permits your muscles to exercise and the blood to circulate properly. Your feet strengthen. You enjoy walking—and you don't mind standing, for the Cantilever Shank supports the foot restfully.

The toes are not crowded. Your posture is good, for the heels are of proper height to be healthful—and stylish! The comfort of Cantilever Shoes is doubly enjoyable because they are good looking and fashionable for daytime or semi-dress occasions.



We are the exclusive agents for Cantilever Shoes in Washington.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

Now where, oh where is Woman's Place?
What domicile should she embrace?
The spinster murmurs—"In the home"
The bathing girl says—"In the foam."
The weary wife—"Oh, let us roam."
But they are all wrong; it's in the gloam-
Ing shades by rivers cool and sweet,
In nook, in cranny, dim retreat.
From e'en the moon's enquiring face.
Yes, there, oh, there, is Women's Place.

MRS. B. B. MUNFORD GIVES MEMORIAL GATEWAY TO W. AND M.

Willamsburg, Va.. October 21.—Funds for a memorial gateway in honor of the late Beverley B. Munford, an alumnus, have been donated to the College of William and Mary, by Mrs. Beverley B. Munford and their children, Mary Safford Hoogewerff and Beverley B. Munford, Jr., of Richmond, it was announced today.

Mrs. Munford, who is a member of the Board of Visitors of the College, has given several thousand dollars to the William and Mary endowment fund to defray the expense of erecting a gateway, which will be of colonial design, in keeping with the architectural design and proportions of the college buildings. With the new concrete boulevard being constructed along the Duke of Gloucester street, the main street of Williamsburg, the gateway of brick columns and wrought iron will afford a greatly improved approach to the college grounds and a fitting terminus for the college end of the boulevard, which terminates at the other end of town, visible from the gateway, with a monument marking the foundations of the original House of Burgesses.

Beverley B. Munford, the distinguished lawyer, was one of the most prominent of the past generation's roll of William and Mary alumni. He was author of several books, including the noted "Virginia's Attitude Towards Slavery and Secession," which formed the basis for Judge Alton B. Parker's widely quoted speech on the same subject at the Sulgrave celebration at Williamsburg last year. Mr. Munford practiced for many years in Richmond, first as a member of the firm of Staples and Munford, and later organized the firm of Munford, Hunton, Williams and Anderson.

Mr. Munford grew up in Williamsburg, where he lived in Tazewell Hall, one of the historic homes of the colonial capital. He gives a very interesting picture of Williamsburg and his life there in "Random Recollections," his book privately printed in 1903.

Mrs. Munford, who is greatly interested in William and Mary, has been closely identified with the educational movement in Virginia and the south since 1900. She is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity, having been one of the first women to receive its key from the mother chapter here. She was one of the founders, in 1900, of the Richmond Education Association, and has been President of the Co-operative Education Association of Virginia since 1908. Mrs. Munford is a member of the national endowment committee working in the interests of William and Mary to obtain funds for new buildings and equipment under the chairmanship of Admiral Cary T. Grayson.

GARFIELD WILL SPEAK AT W. AND M.

Williamsburg, Oct. 21.—Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College, will be one of the speakers on the evening program at the installation of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler as president of the College of William and Mary, it is announced.

President Garfield, the son of the martyred American President, has accepted the invitation to deliver an address at the exercises which will follow the earlier ceremonies of the day, when the President of the United States will be the principal speaker. Dr. Garfield will also represent his institution in the academic procesison.

Word has just been received from New York that "The Virginians," the society of Virginians living in the metropolis, have appointed a delegation of three of its members to represent the organization at the installation. The delegation includes Dr. W. E. Dold, Senator Howard R. Bayne, and Archibald Mayo.

Acceptances have been received from a number of others, including Judge Edmund Waddill, Admiral and Mrs. Hugh Rodman, Dr. Thos. E. Finegan, State Commissioner of Education of Penpsylvania, President W. J. Harahan, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, John B. Parrish, an alumnus, Norman R. Hamilton, of Norfolk, George P. Blow, and J. E. Wilkins, of Newport News, President of the William and Mary Alumni Association, and member of the General Assembly.

How to Be Healthy

The Crusade of the Double-Barred Cross
Practical Talks on Disease Prevention

Prepared by the VIRGINIA TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

(Practically every adult person is infected with tuberculosis. This infection need not be a source of danger. To keep the latent infection from becoming disease, bodily resistance must be kept at its best. This series of articles shows you how to keep healthy.)

PREVENTING TUBERCULOSIS BY GOOD HEALTH

By CHARLES J. HATFIELD, M. D.,
Managing Director, National Tuberculosis Association, N. Y.

IN THE body tissues of most men and women of adult life there lie imbedded little seed-like structures called tubercles which contain the germs of tuberculosis. These tubercles are surrounded by a wall composed of tissue somewhat like an ordinary scar.

So long as the germ-invader remains within his prison, or to put it in another way, so long as the wall holds, the germs of disease are harmless. No one need be alarmed merely because of the fact that he carries the germs or infection of tuberculosis in his system. Nearly everybody does by the time he becomes of age.

To prevent the wall from breaking and to prevent the deadly germs from setting up a disease process when the wall does break, good health and strong resistance are, so far as we now know, the only safeguards.

Almost anyone can acquire and maintain good health. There are no royal rules that will always apply under all circumstances. For the sake of building resistance, to prevent tuberculosis, however, the following suggestions will be helpful to anyone, man, woman or child:

1. Keep the body healthy and strong all the time by living, working, sleeping and playing in the open air as much as possible.
2. Eat and drink only that kind of food that will build and make the body strong.
3. Work hard, but do not overwork. It doesn't pay "to burn the candle at both ends." No one ever did it with success and you are not likely to win against such odds.
4. Have yourself examined by a good doctor from top to toe at least once a year, whether you feel sick or not. The safest health insurance is a periodical physical examination.
5. Protect your health and the health of your fellows and community by avoiding careless spitting, sneezing and coughing. These things spread more disease than anything else.

TRINKLE AND THE DAIRYMEN

Richmond, Va., Oct. 21.—The Hon. E. Lee Trinkle, democratic standard-bearer, after visiting the state fair here a few days ago, expressed himself as very deeply impressed with the agricultural and cattle exhibits, and evidenced a knowledge of the dairying business which surprised even his friends. Mr. Trinkle has wide familiarity with farming interests and is regarded as an authority on most matters and problems pertaining to rural and farm life. With reference to the dairy business in Virginia Mr. Trinkle, while in Richmond, said:

"It may astonish some of you gentlemen to know that, in 1919, the production of milk in Virginia exceeded that of either Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia or Florida. This is very gratifying. In 1919 Virginia produced 110,942,113 gallons of milk. During this same year Virginia dairymen sold 8,007,293 pounds of butter, 556,583 gallons of cream, and 1,163,064 pounds of butterfat. Georgia came next to Virginia in the production of milk during the year mentioned, with 101,615,773 gallons; while North Carolina ranked third, producing 95,747,638 gallons."

Mr. Trinkle said that a study of dairying conditions in Virginia showed that, while the number of her dairy cows increased only four-tenths of one per cent from 1910 to 1920, the total milk production for this same period increased five and one half per cent. This demonstrated very conclusively to Mr. Trinkle that the dairymen of the state are keeping a better grade of cows and are giving their animals better attention.

enjoyed no such comforts as are common to the workingman of today. The invention of sputtering, dripping tallow candles was considered a great step in lighting progress but today the touch of a button floods the room with clean, steady electric light in any degree of brilliancy.

The royal monarch knew no such epicurean delights as food and drink prepared at the table and served deliciously fresh and hot. And electricity with its labor-saving appliances—washer, cleaner, and ironer and motor-driven sewing machine—makes the most unpretentious cottage more convenient and efficient than the ancient royal palace.

Think what electricity does for your daily comfort and then consider how cheap it is—only one-half of a cent an hour for a 50-watt Mazda lamp!

BOOK OF MISERY

Wash., Oct. 21.—"The Book of Misery", containing thousands of news-clippings and letters describing the plight of America's World War veterans in the present period of unemployment and business depression, will be presented to Congress soon by the American Legion as documentary evidence in favor of the government relief for ex-service men.

For Months letters and clippings deplicting the poverty, hunger, sickness and despair of the young men have been pouring in from all parts of the country to the Legion's national legislative committee here. Many of the clippings tell of jobless veterans offering to sell themselves for a chance to work. Others tell of the suicides and attempts at self-destruction of desperate unfortunates.

It has just about gotten so in this country that the cook quits when the family tires of canned goods.—Dallas News.

The Old Dominion

Richmond—The city is swarming with Methodist preachers this evening, and a good many of the laity, male and female, are in the throng. Hotels are full and many private homes are entertaining guests in connection with the annual session of the Virginia Conference, which meets tomorrow morning.

Richmond—Because of an epidemic of smallpox at Montross and vicinity, it is regarded here as practically a foregone conclusion that the Circuit Court of Westmoreland County will not convene October 24, as scheduled. At any rate, even if the grand jury gets down to work on that day, there is but little if any probability that the court will undertake to proceed with the trials of Roger D. Eastlake and Miss Sarah Knox, charged jointly with the recent murder of Eastlake's pretty young wife at Colonial Beach in that county. Latest reports from Westmoreland are to the effect that practically the entire Montross neighborhood is under quarantine and the quarantine is likely to be extended to other sections of the county. Eastlake and Miss Knox are still being held in the Richmond city jail to which they were removed ten days ago.

Roanoke—J. H. B. Peary of Richmond, was chosen state councilor for the ensuing year at the 37th annual convention of the Junior Order United American Mechanics which terminated its session in this city yesterday and will meet next year in Newport News. J. B. Bliz, of Norfolk, was chosen state vice councilor, Thomas B. Ivey, Petersburg, state secretary; A. L. Bradley, of Richmond, state treasurer, and Fred Trent, Lynchurg, state council conductor. These officers were elected without opposition.

Danville—Discusion with a local leader today of the threatened railway strike revealed the fact that the Southern and its subsidiary lines are among the first group to walk out and that approximately 250 men will be affected here. He declared that 90 per cent of the Danville union men had voted to strike, also that they would probably have accepted the 12 per cent wage reduction without taking any action. It was the threat of a further cut which caused the strike vote to be taken.

Richmond—Members of the governor's advisory board assembled to consider the state budget were staggered yesterday afternoon when a tabulation showed that requests for appropriations for the next biennial period were $13,000,000 in excess of estimated revenues for that period. other requests are coming in and these will greatly swell the total. The opinion was freely expreshed that the estimates presented would be ruthlessly trimmed until they were brought within reasonable bounds.

AMERICAN LEGION CONVENTION

Richmond, Va., Oct. 21.—The American Legion Convention Committee at Kansas City has just announced that the Eastern and Central passenger Associations which comprise all the large trunk lines of the East have granted the one cent a mile rate at the American Legion National Convention, October 31, Nov. 1 and 2, 1921.

The Western Passenger Association has already granted this rate in day coaches and within a day or so it is expected that all railroads will announce this special rate good in day coaches as well as Pullmans.

Virginia's delegation will probably number twenty-five instead of the required fourteen which she is entitled to from her paid up membership.

The Norfolk Post No. 36, announce that at least six of their members will attend including the Adjutant of the Post.

All reservations for visitors should be made as soon as possible to Department Headquarters, Richmond, in order that the whole delegation may be billeted together.

Attempt to Assassinate Ambassador

Paris, Oct. 20.—A small oblong package wrapped in plain white paper, tied with a strong cord and marked "Perfume," lay on a table in the American Embassy all this morning. It was addressed personally to the American Ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, and had been delivered by registered post.

Thinking it was a gift, the Ambassador's secretary, Lawrence Norton, carried it to the Ambassador's residence, the former home of Prince Jacques de Broglie, at 16 Avenue de Messine. Early in the evening the Ambassador's valet, Blanchard, saw the package on a desk and, following custom, started to open it. The removal of the paper revealed a small pasteboard box, such as might be used for holding soap. Almost immediately a spring was released, and as Blanchard lifted the lid he heard a familiar noise, which brought back the days when he was a bomber in the British Army He hurled the box through the open bathroom door and ran from the room. The bomb exploded in the doorway, two fragments hitting the valet in the back. He was not seriously injured.

The Ambassador, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Parmely Herrick, and her 7 year old son were just at this time ascending the stairway preparatory to entering Mr. Herrick's suite. Blanchard came running out as the Ambassador reached the top.

"A bomb has exploded and I am hit," the valet shouted. "Think God, you weren't in the room."

Blanchard then collapsed and was carried downstairs. The Ambassador motored immediately to the Hotel Crillon to ask General Pershing the best thing to do, and the Prefect of Police was summoned.

The bomb is believed by the police to have been sent by French Communists as a protest against the conviction of two Italian Communists in Massachusetts charged with murder; it contained the deadliest of explosives, according to the prefect and his staff of bomb experts.

Proof of the strength of the explosives is shown by the fact that the bathroom was wrecked, that much damage was done in the bedroom and that seven fragments went through a thick steel wardrobe, while others made deep dents in the metal doors of a cabinet.

The Ambassador's first thought was to ignore the matter, but General Pershing and others advised him to make the full details public because of the possibility of other bomb outrages. The prefect, accompanied by the Attorney General of France, came to the hotel and shortly afterward went with the Ambassador to the latter's home. The prefect made the announcement that 5,000 police and detectives would begin at once a searching inquiry and that probably there would be numerous arrests among known Communists.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777 known as Marshroot is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day ,with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetis or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until to-morrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the above symptoms, Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day for—every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benet.

PEPTO-MANGAN
KEEPS BLOOD PURE
Growing Children Need Plenty of Red Cells in Blood.

When the young body is growing, children frequently experience weakness. Girls and boys sometimes play too hard and over-tax their systems. They become pale, weak, and sickly. They lose their appetites, become languid, and are not able to make progress in school work. "Growing too fast" is often true. It is most important to keep the blood of growing girls and boys in a healthy state.

Pepto-Mangan keeps the blood pure. The red cells in the blood are increased. They carry life-giving oxygen to all parts of the body, and whole some youthfulness blooms again in clear complexions, bright eyes and buoyant spirits. Sold both in liquid and tablet form by druggists everywhere. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package. Advertisement.

WASHINGTON

"To the victors belong the spoils," is a doctrine practiced and approved by both of the big political parties and it is emphasized in the distribution of the offices. The fact that the Republicans are in control of both branches of the national legislature the choice rooms and suites in both the Senate and House office buildings are occupied by the Republicans, while the Democrats have what is left —some on the top floors, others in the sub-basement.

An ice plant is operated in the State, War and Navy Building which reports a profit from the sale of its product at 15 cents per 100 pounds, according to the official statement of the superintendent of Public Building and Grounds. It is explained that since fuel has been so high, the superintendent has been obliged to charge 19 cents per hundred for the ice, which is supplied to 15 to 20 different government offices. Patrons of the ice plant call at the loading plant and carry the product away, thus saving the cost of delivery.

"Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed that he is grown so fat?" quoting Shakespeare.

To which "Uncle Joe" replied: "It is not meat, but potatoes."

Then he explained that after he has eaten all other food he can and his appetite is satisfied, he eats a large baked potato as a sort of desert.

We are going back to our headquarters. There is nothing scheduled immediately except to go right ahead with the plans for a strike."

Dr. Kahler Shoes
"Comfortable Shoes Made Stylish"

FOLKS' feet differ as much as their faces. Upon this simple physiological fact, over-looked by many makers and sellers of shoes, has built for DR. KAHLER shoes the finest comfort shoe business in the world. Every shoe has been created by the original DR. KAHLER, to serve the individual needs of a certain type of foot, as developed during his practice. Many people keep changing shoes, and are always half satisfied until, by chance, they come across the last that seems to have been originated for their foot. Then they will have no other shoe—this we have witnessed from our many satisfied customers whom we have comfortably fitted in DR. KAHLER shoes. Below are illustrated two of the five features of these shoes.

The "Hidden Spring"
A hand forged steel shank that allows full muscle movement and offers gentle support to fallen arches and flat feet.

The Straight Line Last
This type of last allows the foot to retain its normal shape without the distortion of the toes that produce bunions.

Come in and try on a pair—you will then realize that there is real "Sanity in Comfort Footwear." That a foot to be comfortable does not require a twisted ill-looking shoe, a heavy rigid shoe, to encase the foot like a Plaster of Paris cast, or a soft shoe without a backbone that cannot even give the gentlest support required.

The Greatest Physician of All Is Pure Blood

When the Foods You Eat No Longer Seem to Do You Any Good—Look For the Danger Signals Which Denote Waste Products In The Blood.

How to Clear Your Blood of Waste Products.

The blood is the means by which all the tissues of the body are directly or indirectly nourished. You will at once realize that unless the blood is pure, some part of the body will soon become diseased.

Waste products in the blood are an element of danger. Ninety per cent of the people "below par" are suffering with waste products in the blood.

When your blood is loaded with waste products, you become weak, nervous, irritable and easily upset.

Other symptoms are pimples, boils, or some other skin disorder; loss of weight; and probably rheumatism.

For over 50 years, thousands and thousands of men and women have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and a lowered vitality.

The same qualities which give S. S. S. its beneficial effect in clearing your blood of waste products make it extremely desirable for keeping your blood in good condition.

Get S. S. S. at your druggist. Beware of substitutes. Write Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., D-719 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. for special medical advice (without charge). He is helping people every day to regain their health and strength. Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores.
